Description
Problem: Radzig tells me to go talk to merchant near Rovna, but there is no quest marker to lead me to him. And even if I go to the area myself, I don't see anything there and I can't interact with anything.
More info on how I got to this point: After I attempted to question the captured Cuman prisoner, Melichar told me to help cure the disease in Merhojed first. So i went ahead and completed the pestilence quest. I determined the disease was caused by water poisoning, and I brewed the right potion for the cure. After I gave the cure to all villagers. I also interrogated the prisoner, and sent him to Rattay.
After all this, I went and talked to Radzig, briefing him on everything that happened. Then he says something like "you should go find the merchant. but first, I want to tell you something". then he just kind of walks away and nothing happens. There's no quest marker. I'm told to go see the merchant, but I can't. I looked up online where the location is, and I went there. Apparently, I'm supposed to interact with certain things, like the blood on the floor. I see the blood, but I can't interact with it. The quest is totally stuck :(
I would attach a saved game file, but it exceeds 5 MB. Please HELP.
